Presentation

Cosmopolite is a non-profit association that is principally constituted by trade-associations, enterprises and by a team of professionals.

Founded in October 2002, in the framework of international cooperation programmes, Cosmopolite promotes and sustains initiatives and projects aiming at the social and economic development of all those countries in need.

The Association operates inspired by solidarity principles in defence of people's dignity while respecting the environment.

The Association is particularly active in the European Eastern Countries and in the North-Central Africa, but it is open to work in other parts of the world where there is evident social and economic distress.
